A NEGRO LYNCHED

Shot in His Cell and Then Hanged at Guthrie, Ky.

A $5,000 Fire at Dawson, Ky., This Morning—W. J. Bryan Speaks at Frankfort February 3.

OTHER LATE NEWS BY WIRE

Guthrie, Ky., Jan. 25—Lewis Radford, a negro, was lynched here last night by a mob of from thirty to forty negroes.

Radford was accused of killing Priscilla Prozett, also a negro. Radford refused to leave his cell and the mob began firing, several shots taking effect.

The prisoner was then dragged to a tree a few yards from the jail door, and was hanged to the same limb a negro was hanged eight years ago for attempting to rape a white woman of the neighborhood.

It is the general supposition that the negro was dead before hanged, from the effects of the pistol shot.

The mob quietly dispersed after finishing its work leaving the body hanging within a few inches of the ground.

JAPANESE STILL LANDING TROOPS—HOPE OF PEACE GONE AGAIN.

Paris, Jan. 25—The Matin states that, according to reliable news it has obtained, the Japanese government is preparing to land four more divisions of troops in Korea as a military demonstration.

Tokio, Jan. 25—The Hokoemia says that every hope of peace between Japan and Russia has gone, as all notion of securing Japan's legitimate demands by diplomacy has now been abandoned. The arrival or non-arrival of Russia's reply would not affect the situation.

Commonwealth's Attorney John G. Lovett, of Benton, is in the city today.

BOATS LEAVING

Ice May Occasion Some Trouble Above.

The Evansville and Cairo Boats are Now Running Again.

AN ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK

"The river outlook is very encouraging," Captain Joe Fowler declared this morning as he looked out of his office window and surveyed the broad expanse of the Ohio which has been coming up in great leaps since last week.

"The ice is reported thick at Caseyville and this morning the Evansville packet Joe Fowler was started out. She may experience trouble and the Hopkins will not be started out until the Fowler has returned. The ice is running heavy in the upper Ohio and if the rise is sufficient, and we think it is, we can dodge the ice and navigate with comparative safety, as the ice is soft and rotten anyhow."

This morning preparations were being made on all boats for a general resumption of navigation and the big tow boat Sprague is being stored preparatory to being started up the Ohio river. The Sprague has been laying up here for some time waiting for the ice to run out or the river to rise.

The river men are all jubilant over the outlook and are wearing broad smiles this morning.

The heaviest fall reported from above is at Pittsburg where a fall of 9.5 has been registered. This is only reaction after the crest of the flood had been reached and the rains in the mountain regions have been heavy enough, it is reported, to keep the river at a good steady stage.

FACTORY BURNED

Mr. E. E. Bell Loses His Spoke and Rim Factory on S. 3rd.

The Loss Will amount to About $2,000 With no Insurance.

E. E. Bell's spoke and rim factory on South Third street between the old ice factory and Riglesberger's mill, was destroyed by fire Sunday morning about 5 o'clock. The origin of the fire is not known, but when it was discovered the small frame building was almost destroyed, the roof having fallen in, and the departments could do nothing but save the ice factory and Riglesberger's and the boiler of the Bell factory. The boiler and two or three machines in the Bell factory were saved.

Some logs had been lost by Mr. Bell Saturday on account of the rise in the river, and he decided to haul the remaining rafts up, and steam was being raised early Sunday morning for the purpose. It is supposed the fire started from the furnace, but how is not known. The loss will be about $2,000 with no insurance.

IS WORSE

MAN SCALED SUFFERING MORE TODAY.

Mr. George E. Johnson who was burned a week ago by falling into a vat of hot water, is worse. A high fever has set in and the burns have proved to be more serious than at first thought. The skin and flesh are dropping off in places and while the physicians think he will recover, it will doubtless be some time before he will be well.

BISHOP'S FUNERAL

It Will be an Imposing Affair at Louisville Wednesday.

Body of the Distinguished Man Reaches There From New York—Services Here.

HE WANTED SUDDEN DEATH

The funeral of Bishop Thomas U. Dudley will take place Wednesday morning. The body, in charge of Mrs. Dudley and her son Thomas arrived in Louisville last night over the Chesapeake and Ohio.

The funeral services will be under the direction of Presiding Bishop Tuttle, of St. Louis. Other churchmen who will assist are: Bishops Gaylor, of Tennessee, Peterkin of West Virginia, Burton, of Lexington, Francis of Indiana and Randolph of Virginia.

Only the death of a man who was as democratic at heart as he was brilliant in brain could have caused such a feeling of regret in an entire state as the death of Bishop Dudley. His list of personal acquaintances figured up in the thousands and he was well known in all parts of the country.

HOW BISHOPS ARE CHOSEN.

The successor of Bishop Dudley will be first chosen by the council of the Diocese, which is made up of the clergy and the representatives from the parishes, says the Louisville Times. This council will meet in Louisville about the middle of next May and it is not thought that a special meeting will be held before that time. After the council has made known its choice, it must be ratified by the laity of the diocese.

The next step is the gaining of the sanction of the majorities of the diocese councils in the United States. And then before the new Bishop can be consecrated, he must have the sanction of a majority of all the Bishops of the United States.

The diocese of Kentucky is now left without a bishop, as there is no one who can assume the duties of the office until the successor is consecrated, which may be some time after the election by the diocesan council.

All of the affairs of the diocese are now under the management of the Standing Committee, which will retain the power until the new Bishop takes charge. The diocese of Kentucky embraces all of the State west of Kentucky river.

WANTED TO DIE SUDDENLY.

The day before Bishop Dudley left for New York, in a conversation with an old friend, he admitted that he could not subscribe to the episcopal prayer to save us "From Sudden Death," if it were to be taken in a literal sense, but that he did not believe that "sudden death" should be interpreted literally, says the Louisville Post.

Mr. Herman V. Sanders, of the Columbia Finance Trust Company, said this morning:

"Bishop Dudley was leaning over my desk the day before he left on his last trip. We always chatted a few minutes when the Bishop came in, and this time the conversation turned on our increasing years.

"I said, 'Bishop, there's one prayer in your prayer book that I can't pray.' 'What is the prayer?' the Bishop asked.

"It is that against sudden death. When I die I want to go quickly."

"So so I," replied Bishop Dudley. "But that prayer, I believe, doesn't mean that sudden death, literally, is a misfortune, but I take 'sudden' to mean death for those who are unprepared. For a good man I don't believe any death can be 'sudden' in the sense of the prayer book."

NO ONE GOES FROM HERE.

No one, so far as is known, will go from Paducah to attend the funeral. It will be a large and impressive affair, and the crowd will be so large that the memorial services to be held here will

AFTER SALOONS

Notice Served Today That the Ordinance Will be Enforced

Several Warrants Issued Today and a Number of Fines Assessed.

SOME SURPRISE IS CREATED

A number of saloon men have felt like the little boy the calf run over for several weeks past. Some of them, like the little boy, have nothing to say, while others are very outspoken. Before the November election they were all hot for the Yeiser ticket, and supported it. When other candidates came around they waved them off politely but firmly, with the explanation, "Oh, yes, Yeiser has promised us all we want, and we are pledged to him. Sorry. Ta, ta, old fel."

For a time after the election the saloons were closed tight. The saloon men, or some of them, merely winked the other eye. "That's all done for a blind" they told each other and their friends. "Wait until those temperance dubs quiet down and they'll give us the tip to quietly open again."

So they waited. Then they began opening again a short time ago. Saturday they received through the police notice to close yesterday. Some of them didn't close, and as a result a number of warrants were issued. One man said they were certainly hot after him.

"We were not open, and hadn't sold a drink all day," he said. "The boss went into the upstairs room to change clothes, and had to leave one of the doors unlocked. Four men had climbed the rear stairs on a hot scent for a brazer, and got to the door just about the time it was unlocked and butted in. We hustled them out before they got into the saloon, but there was a copper saw them get in just the same, and got a warrant."

Another saloon man said he didn't keep open and didn't sell a drink.

Still another was very indignant. "We have been betrayed," he said. "It couldn't have been worse, no matter who had been elected. Here the town is full of gamblers and grafters, and nothing is said about them, but if we saloon men try to do a little business against the law once a week, we get pinched. The 'tin horns' can violate the law every day and night, however, and you never hear anything about it."

Judge Sanders in police court this morning said that he had been requested to announce that the prosecuting attorney and chief of police intend to strictly enforce the Sunday law, and that he would let those who pleaded guilty today off with a $10 fine, but would not promise to do it for those who violate the law hereafter, after having been given due warning. The intention to close the saloons tight was confirmed by Chief Collins and it is likely that the saloons will not open often hereafter, for a while, at least.

The saloon keepers fined today promised, according to the officers, not to open again if the court was lenient with them this time. Those fined are: Robert Moshell, W. C. Gray, George Childress, Abe Marcoffsky, Robertson & Sellars, and Ed Pearson.

L. A. Lagomarsino, W. C. Standford and Bonner Brothers asked for continuances, which were granted.

doubtless be as satisfactory to his admirers and friends in Paducah than to go to Louisville.

MEMORIAL SERVICES HERE.

There will be memorial services to Bishop Dudley at Grace Episcopal church on Wednesday at 11 a. m., the same hour his funeral is being conducted in Louisville.

George A. Rose, cashier of the Produce National Bank, of Cleveland, which closed its doors Friday, is in jail on the charge of embezzling $189,000.

HAS A NEW PLAN

Prof. C. M. Leib Will Have Half Year Terms.

Promotions and Demotions to Be For Not More Than Half a Year Hereafter.

PROMISES TO WORK WELL

Prof. C. M. Leib, superintendent of the Paducah public schools, this morning began the work of regrading and reclassifying in the primary and intermediate departments of the schools, and will complete the work this week if possible.

Prof. Leib has inaugurated a new plan in this work and will arrange a term of four and a half months and no pupil will be demoted more than half a year, or promoted more than half a year, where formerly promotion and demotion were made for the entire year. In both cases Prof. Leib thinks an injustice has been done.

"My idea," he stated, "is to look at the work of each pupil and decide whether he is keeping up with the work of his grade and class. If he is not, then I will put him back in the lower class of that grade. This will be done immediately and if he is capable and does make up by the end of the four and a half months term, he will be regularly promoted. I intend to divide each grade into two classes, the A. and B. class, and if a pupil in the A. class cannot do the work he will be demoted to the B. class as soon as his inability is discovered. It by the end of the term his work has been such that he can safely leave that class, he will be promoted to the A. division. Heretofore the pupils have been demoted one grade and made to go back a full year. This has been an injustice and I feel my plan is the better."

Prof. Leib will start this work today and hopes to straighten out the rooms by the end of the week.

ARE NOW RUNNING

A Number of Men at Work for Rehkopf Today.

Firm Thinks There will be no Trouble in Operating Their Plants.

The collar, harness and saddle departments of the Rehkopf Saddlery company are in operation again, after a week's suspension on account of the strike of union leather workers.

They have secured a number of men from other cities, and while they have not a full force, they have quite a number of men in each department.

The union, a member of the firm stated this morning, had attempted to persuade some of the new men brought here to leave, but had succeeded in inducing only one man and three boys to quit.

Other men are expected in from now on. The firm claims that it will run an open shop, employing all who desire to work, union and non-union men alike. It is claimed that a union boycott cannot hurt them because of the class of goods they handle, and the fact that much of it is sold wholesale.

RAISES AT MAYFIELD.

Mayfield, Ky., Jan. 25—The county board of supervisors have raised six hundred and forty-two lists. They want the county to get out of the pauper list.

The total number of dead in the Alabama tornado is thirty-eight, six of whom are white. The number of wounded is estimated at sixty-five, twelve fatally.

ANOTHER BRIDGE

I. C. Has Completed the One Over Island Creek.

The Road Will Next Begin Work on a New Steel Structure Over Tennessee River.

LATE RAILROAD NEWS

The work on the new I. C. Island Creek bridge has been completed and this week the structure will be painted and the job turned over to the company for acceptance.

Foreman J. M. Farrin, of Chicago, who has been in charge of the work, has packed the big bridge derrick for shipment back to Chicago and the apparatus has been side tracked here waiting for movement.

The Tennessee river bridge will be the next bridge to be built by the I. C. on the Louisville division. The bids for the erection of this bridge were called for and opened last November and rejected. New bids have been called for and the iron work is now being moulded by the railroad company itself. The Tennessee river bridge is the one burned last summer and a temporary span was put in to do service until a new bridge can be built.

The officials say work on the bridge will begin this summer and the job completed before winter. The preliminary work is being done this winter and the iron work built so that only the fitting remains to be done.

Notice has been posted in trainmen's quarters here that all diners will be discontinued on train No. 1 at Fulton, and passengers will hereafter be given fifteen minutes at Fulton for supper. This train comes through Paducah as 101 and is due from Louisville at 6 o'clock at night. At Fulton a diner is put on and the train goes south as No. 1. During the winter radical changes in dining service on the Louisville and Memphis divisions have been made, the diner having been taken off 102 and passengers have to take dinner here or at Princeton. A wait of ten minutes is allowed here for passengers who desire to eat dinner in Paducah.

The report that the I. C. road would sign the agreement forbidding passenger to ride on freight trains, is generally discredited here as the local freights are used incessantly out of Paducah by drummers who would otherwise find it impossible to visit their customers.

Mr. H. O. McCourt, assistant general manager of the southern lines of the I. C., arrived in the city this morning on the Fulton and Louisville accommodation train on business. He came in his private car No. 19. This is Mr. McCourt's first trip here in several days.

Dispatcher E. F. North will remain here two weeks to straighten out business on this end of the Louisville division. Mr. North is in authority at this place and Mr. Bennett, his assistant, is working on a trick. Dispatcher Whittaker having returned to Evansville.

Mr. A. F. Walter, night watchman and caller in the new yards, has resigned his position with the road. Walter is the man who arrested O'Day, the house breaker who is now in jail waiting the action of the court on four house breaking warrants.

Supt. A. H. Egan, of the Louisville division of the I. C., arrived in the city this morning on business.

NEED TO HURRY

Boards Have Done Nothing Towards Beginning Street Paving

Engineer Is Anxious to Begin His Work, Which He Can Not Do at Present.

NO EXCUSE FOR A DELAY

No steps have yet been taken to begin the work of paving streets for which $150,000 was voted by the people, and which will be augmented by the half paid by the property owners, another $150,000.

The new boards have had nearly a month in which to take some action, but have thus far done nothing. Members of the old boards before the latter retired presented a resolution agreeing on the streets to be improved by paving, but other members of the boards, who claimed this matter should be left to the new boards under whose administration the work must be done, voted it down, and Paducah is today unable to say what streets are to be paved, although it is nearly time for work to begin.

Neither have any steps been taken to issue the bonds and sell them, which will in itself require considerable time, perhaps several weeks.

City Engineer L. A. Washington is very anxious to begin the preliminary work on the streets to be paved, but he has no means of finding out which they will be. He could have gotten in many good days' work this month had he known which thoroughfares were to be paved.

There is a great deal of work to do, such as surveying for the storm water sewerage on about forty or fifty blocks and fixing the grade. This work will require time, but the engineer is unable to find out anything about what is going to be done by the boards, or when it will be done.

Engineer Washington said today that he will when the weather clears begin the preliminary work on Kentucky and Jefferson streets, as he presumes these two will certainly be among those selected to pave. The council several meetings ago voted to refer the matter of selecting the streets to be paved to the street committee, as the council's representative, but the board of aldermen has never acted and until it does the committee will not be complete and no work can be done.

OHIO RIVER

NO RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL AT THIS SESSION.

It is learned upon good authority that there is little likelihood of a river and harbor bill being reported at this session of congress, says a Washington dispatch. It is urged that $25,000,000 remains unexpended from the last appropriation and that the revenue of the government has been greatly reduced. However, a bill will be reported at the next session of congress and it is generally agreed that the Ohio river will get its share of the money.

COUNTY SCHOOL EXAMINATION

CURED LUMBAGO.

A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another; then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of former sufferers." 25c, 50c and $1.

SOUTH'S GROWTH

It Has Made Vast Strides Within a Year.

Its Manufacturing Products Have Kept Pace With its Agriculture.

INCREASES EVERYWHERE

"The world's attention has been so largely centered upon cotton by reason of the high prices now prevailing that the advance in grain production in the south has attracted less notice than it would otherwise have received," says the Manufacturers' Record.

"The yield of corn in the 14 southern states last year was 640,000,000 bushels, against 502,000,000 bushels in 1902, a gain of 138,000,000 bushels; in wheat there was an increase from 48,000,000 bushels in 1902 to 68,000,000 bushels in 1903, and in oats a gain from 56,000,000 bushels to 64,000,000 bushels. The total increase in the grain crop of the south was 166,000,000 bushels, the yield for 1903 having been 773,000,000 bushels, against 607,000,000 bushels in 1902. The total value of the corn, wheat, oats, Irish potatoes, rye and hay crops (the only ones on which the Agricultural department has yet made its full reports) for 1903 was $506,887,000, against $402,700,000 in 1902, an increase in these crops of $104,000,000.

"The minimum estimate of the value of the cotton and cotton seed crop of 1903 is $625,000,000. It is quite possible it will be considerably over that. The census report of 1900 shows that the value of other products than those just mentioned, including rice, sugar, tobacco, sweet potatoes, vegetables, fruit and livestock products, was $484,000,000. If we simply estimate the value of these latter items in 1903 as the same as in 1900, although there has been a considerable increase in most of them, the same total value of the southern farm products for 1903 was $1,615,000,000, against $1,271,000,000 in 1900 and $660,000,000 in 1880. Between 1880 and 1903 the increase in the population of the south has been almost exactly 50 per cent, while the increase in the value of farm products was 144 per cent.

"During this period in which the value of farm products has so enormously increased there has been an even greater increase in manufactured products, the value for 1903 including minerals, having been about $1,750,000,000, against $474,000,000 in 1880. The combined value of agricultural and manufactured products in 1903 for the south was about $3,900,000,000, against about $1,200,000,000 in 1880, the output having trebled, while population increased 50 per cent.

"Coincident with the remarkable increase in the value of southern crops is the development of exports through southern ports. The total value of breadstuffs shipped through southern ports in 1903 was $78,038,000, against $63,751,000 for the preceding year, a gain of nearly $14,300,000, or 23 per cent, while for all other United States ports the value of breadstuffs exported was $114,881,000, against $123,029,000 in 1902, showing a decrease of $8,747,000 in 1903. Southern ports exported more than 40 per cent. of the total breadstuffs which went out of the country. These striking figures, showing a gain at southern ports of $14,000,000 in grain and flour shipments and a decrease at other ports of $8,700,000, are but another indication of the rapidity of the south's material advancement, the foreign trade through these ports keeping pace with the remarkable increase in agricultural and manufactured products."

THOSE TO BLAME

Coroner's Jury Will Hold 17 for Iroquois Disaster.

They Range From City Officials Down to the Stage Hands.

MAYOR HARRISON TO ESCAPE

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 25—Seventeen persons must stand the responsibility of the Iroquois theater disaster, and the complaints against them will go to the grand jury. This was the conclusion reached at the close of the session of the coroner's inquest.

After examining in detail more than 200 witnesses and sifting out owners, managers, employees and city officials whose disregard for ordinances was either admitted or apparent, the jurors will today discuss the testimony and prepare the verdict.

The men whose culpability will be considered, and some of the revelations against them in the testimony, are:

GEOFFRE WILLIAMS, commissioner of buildings.

WILLIAM H. MUSHAM, chief of fire department.

HARRY J. POWERS AND WILL J. DAVIS, resident managers of the Iroquois theater.

THOMAS J. NOONAN, business manager of theater.

ED LOUGHLIN, building inspector.

JULIUS LENSE, building inspector.

INSPECTOR HUGHES.

WILLIAM SALLERS, fireman.

STAGE CARPENTER CUMMINGS.

The jurors have left no doubt of the fact that they will pass the matter to the grand jury. Immediate action on the coroner's report is expected in the criminal courts. Indictments for manslaughter are confidently expected, with prison sentences for some if not all of these men.

TOBACCO MARKET.

RHEUMATISM NOT A SKIN DISEASE.

It is natural to rub the spot that hurts, and when rheumatic pains are shooting through the joints and muscles and they are inflamed and sore, the sufferer is apt to turn to liniments and plasters for relief; and while such treatment may quiet the pain temporarily, no amount of rubbing or blistering can cure Rheumatism, because it is not a skin disease, but is in the blood and all through the system, and every time you are exposed to the same conditions that caused the first attack, you are going to have another, and Rheumatism will last just as long as the poison is in the blood, no matter what you apply externally. Too much acid in the blood is one cause of Rheumatism; stomach troubles, bad digestion, weak kidneys and torpid liver are other causes which bring on this painful disease, because the blood becomes tainted with the poisonous matter which these organs fail to carry out of the system. Certain secret diseases will produce Rheumatism, and of all forms this is the most stubborn and severe, for it seems to affect every bone and muscle in the body. The blood is the medium by which the poisons and acids are carried through the system, and it doesn't matter what kind of Rheumatism you have, it must be treated through the blood, or you can never get permanently rid of it. As a cure for rheumatic troubles S. S. S. has never been equalled. It doesn't inflame the stomach and ruin the digestion like Potash, Alkalies and other strong drugs, but tones up the general health, gently stimulates the sluggish organs, and at the same time antitoxins and filters out of the blood all poisonous acids and effete matter of every kind; and when S. S. S. has restored the blood to its natural condition, the painful, feverish joints and the sore and tender muscles are immediately relieved.

Our special book on Rheumatism will be mailed free to those desiring it. Our physicians will cheerfully answer all letters asking for special information or advice, for which no charge is made.

Suicide

What Drives so Many People to This Dark Path, and Why.

If a man—before taking a step made possible only by brooding and despair—would consider that his feeling of darkness is only a question of nerves—he would be saved.

For, the depression leading to self-destruction is truly a disease of the nerves. The cure is Dr. Miles' Nerveine. It is a nerve medicine for weak nerves and can be depended upon to make you well.

No matter what form of nerve trouble you may be suffering from, you can depend on Dr. Miles' Nerveine.

It will do what no other medicine or treatment may be able to do for you—save you from that black hour of brooding, which so many of us dread.

"I had several attacks of nervous prostration, and for a long time could get no relief. I saw Dr. Miles' Nerveine advertised and bought a bottle. After using the first bottle, I was much better, and when I had taken six bottles, I was entirely cured. I have never been troubled since."—MRS. W. A. BIRD, Stillmore, Ga.

GOOD SPIRITS.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass state could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred and one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the great oil of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over 35 years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. For sale by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." 25c, 50c and $1.

IMPERFECT DIGESTION.

When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with bilious properties, the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. ## NEED TO HURRY

Boards Have Done Nothing Towards Beginning Street Paving

Engineer Is Anxious to Begin His Work, Which He Can Not Do at Present.

NO EXCUSE FOR A DELAY

No steps have yet been taken to begin the work of paving streets for which $150,000 was voted by the people, and which will be augmented by the half paid by the property owners, another $150,000.

The new boards have had nearly a month in which to take some action, but have thus far done nothing. Members of the old boards before the latter retired presented a resolution agreeing on the streets to be improved by paving, but other members of the boards, who claimed this matter should be left to the new boards under whose administration the work must be done, voted it down, and Paducah is today unable to say what streets are to be paved, although it is nearly time for work to begin.

Neither have any steps been taken to issue the bonds and sell them, which will in itself require considerable time, perhaps several weeks.

City Engineer L. A. Washington is very anxious to begin the preliminary work on the streets to be paved, but he has no means of finding out which they will be. He could have gotten in many good days' work this month had he known which thoroughfares were to be paved.

There is a great deal of work to do, such as surveying for the storm water sewerage on about forty or fifty blocks and fixing the grade. This work will require time, but the engineer is unable to find out anything about what is going to be done by the boards, or when it will be done.

Engineer Washington said today that he will when the weather clears begin the preliminary work on Kentucky and Jefferson streets, as he presumes these two will certainly be among those selected to pave. The council several meetings ago voted to refer the matter of selecting the streets to be paved to the street committee, as the council representative, but the board of aldermen has never acted and until it does the committee will not be complete and no work can be done.

OHIO RIVER

NO RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL AT THIS SESSION.

It is learned upon good authority that there is little likelihood of a river and harbor bill being reported at this session of congress, says a Washington dispatch. It is urged that $25,000,000 remains unexpended from the last appropriation and that the revenue of the government has been greatly reduced. However, a bill will be reported at the next session of congress and it is generally agreed that the Ohio river will get its share of the money.

I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of former sufferers." 25c, 50c and $1.

SOUTH'S GROWTH

It Has Made Vast Strides Within a Year.

Its Manufacturing Products Have Kept Pace With its Agriculture.

INCREASES EVERYWHERE

"The world's attention has been so largely centered upon cotton by reason of the high prices now prevailing that the advance in grain production in the south has attracted less notice than it would otherwise have received," says the Manufacturers' Record.

"The yield of corn in the 14 southern states last year was 640,000,000 bushels, against 502,000,000 bushels in 1902, a gain of 138,000,000 bushels; in wheat there was an increase from 48,000,000 bushels in 1902 to 68,000,000 bushels in 1903, and in oats a gain from 56,000,000 bushels to 64,000,000 bushels. The total increase in the grain crop of the south was 166,000,000 bushels, the yield for 1903 having been 773,000,000 bushels, against 607,000,000 bushels in 1902. The total value of the corn, wheat, oats, Irish potatoes, rye and hay crops (the only ones on which the Agricultural department has yet made its full reports) for 1903 was $506,887,000, against $402,700,000 in 1902, an increase in these crops of $104,000,000.

"The minimum estimate of the value of the cotton and cotton seed crop of 1903 is $825,000,000. It is quite possible it will be considerably over that. The census report of 1900 shows that the value of other products than those just mentioned, including rice, sugar, tobacco, sweet potatoes, vegetables, fruits and livestock products, was $484,000,000. If we simply estimate the value of these latter items in 1903 as the same as in 1900, although there has been a considerable increase in most of them, the same total value of the southern farm products for 1903 was $1,615,000,000, against $1,271,000,000 in 1900 and $660,000,000 in 1880. Between 1880 and 1903 the increase in the population of the south has been almost exactly 50 per cent, while the increase in the value of farm products was 144 per cent.

"During this period in which the value of farm products has so enormously increased there has been an even greater increase in manufactured products, the value for 1903 including minerals, having been about $1,750,000,000, against $474,000,000 in 1880. The combined value of agricultural and manufactured products in 1903 for the south was about $3,360,000,000, against about $1,200,000,000 in 1880, the output having trebled, while population increased 50 per cent.

"Coincident with the remarkable increase in the value of southern crops is the development of exports through southern ports. The total value of breadstuffs shipped through southern ports in 1903 was $78,038,000, against $63,751,000 for the preceding year, a gain of nearly $14,300,000, or 23 per cent, while for all other United States ports the value of breadstuffs exported was $114,881,000, against $123,029,000 in 1902, showing a decrease of $8,747,000 in 1903. Southern ports exported more than 40 per cent of the total breadstuffs which went out of the country. These striking figures, showing a gain at southern ports of $14,000,000 in grain and flour shipments and a decrease at other ports of $8,700,000, are but another indication of the rapidity of the south's material advancement, the foreign trade through these ports keeping pace with the remarkable increase in agricultural and manufactured products."

MAYOR HARRISON TO ESCAPE

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 25—Seventeen persons must stand the responsibility of the Iroquois theater disaster, and the complaints against them will go to the grand jury. This was the conclusion reached at the close of the session of the coroner's inquest.

GEORGE WILLIAMS, commissioner of buildings.

WILLIAM H. MUSHAM, chief of fire department.

HARRY J. POWERS AND WILL J. DAVIS, resident managers of the Iroquois theater.

The jurors have left no doubt of the fact that they will pass the matter to the grand jury. Immediate action on the coroner's report is expected in the criminal courts. Indictments for manslaughter are confidently expected, with prison sentences for some if not all of these men.

UNABLE TO SLEEP AT NIGHT. Sidney, Ohio, August 20, 1903. A few months ago I was feeling weak and ran down and unable to get sleep at night. I felt extremely bad, and also had rheumatic pains in my joints and muscles. The medicine I used gave me only temporary relief at best, so seeing S. S. S. highly recommended for such troubles, I began its use, and after taking it for some time was well pleased with the result. It did away with the rheumatic pains, gave me refreshing sleep and built up my general system, giving me strength and energy. It is a good medicine, without a doubt, and I take pleasure in endorsing it. R. F. D. No. 1. S. S. BOUGHTON.

THE MOUSE AND THE WEASEL.

Find Owner of the House.

A lean and hungry Mouse once pushed his way, not without some trouble, through a small hole in a corn hutch, and there fed for some time so busily, that when he would have returned by the same way he had entered he found himself too plump to get through the hole, pushed as hard as he might. A Weasel, who had great fun in watching the vain struggles of the fat little thing, called to him and said: "Listen to me, my plump friend. There is but one way to get out; and that is to wait till you have become as lean as when you first got in."

GEN. DAN COLLIER

Pension Agent of Kentucky Dies Suddenly.

Had Been Ill From Heart Trouble For Several Weeks.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 25.—Alone in a room in the Pope Sanitarium death came to Daniel R. Collier, United States pension agent for the state of Kentucky Saturday afternoon between 5:30 and 6 o'clock. Death was caused by angina pectoris, or rheumatism of the heart, and was not unexpected, as Colonel Collier himself had frequently said he would die in just that way.

For the past six weeks Colonel Collier had been a great sufferer from rheumatism. Colonel Collier was in the habit of stopping at the sanitarium every day about noon and receiving treatment. Saturday he visited the sanitarium at the usual time, and after his treatment said to Dr. Pope that he did not feel equal to walking to dinner. Dr. Pope told him to go to a room and lie down. He said he thought he would take a nap and not eat any dinner. He went to sleep about 2 o'clock and slept easily until 4:30 o'clock. At that time he rang for the nurse and said he felt a slight nausea. The nurse attended him and he said he would lie there for a few minutes and go home.

Colonel Collier had not taken off his clothes when he lay down on the bed, and just after the nurse entered the room he put on his coat. Lying down again after the nurse left the room, at about 5:30 o'clock, Colonel Collier died, for when the nurse returned to the room ten minutes later he had ceased to breathe.

Daniel Ray Collier was born in Garrard county, Kentucky, about 64 years ago. He was educated in the schools of that county, obtaining the rudiments which enabled him later to teach school in Garrard county for several years.

He continued his life on the farm until the outbreak of the Civil war, when he at once responded to the call to arms. He enlisted as a private soldier in company C, Third Kentucky infantry, under Major E. Bramlette. For gallant conduct on the field, he was time and again promoted until he finally became a lieutenant colonel.

He had occupied many important offices, being adjutant general of the state during Governor Bradley's administration. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Attorney General Hays has decided that the Governor has no power to appoint a Police Judge in a sixth-class town.

JAMES TO FRONT

ON A COMMITTEE WHICH WILL DECIDE GRANDFATHER CLAUSE.

Representative James has been appointed a member of the subcommittee to report on the Moody-Cudger contest case from North Carolina, says a Washington dispatch. It involves the grandfather clause, which disfranchises the negro. If the Republicans try to remove Mr. Cudger, Mr. James will champion the cause of the Democrat on the floor of the house. Mr. James' committee has cleared away much of its work, and it is almost certain that the Hunter-Edwards case from the Eleventh district will go before contested elections committee No. 1.

THE WORLD'S FIRST LIMITED TRAIN

Was operated by the Pennsylvania railway system which from time to time introduced new features, attaining the perfection in travel seen today in the New York Limited. Drawing room sleeping car, leaving Cincinnati daily 8:30 p. m., runs in the Limited through to New York, arriving 6 o'clock p. m. The 3:30 p. m. train from Louisville daily connects with the New York Limited. O. H. Hager, D. P. Agt., Louisville, Ky., has interesting information regarding the New York Limited and its route, which will be furnished upon application.

TO MEET IN APRIL

Republican State Convention to be Held Then.

This Has Not Been Officially Decided but Seems to be General Opinion.

LATE POLITICAL GOSSIP

The Republican state convention may be held at Louisville, Ky., between April 15th and 20th. This is not certain, as the state central committee has to decide the question but after a meeting of prominent Republicans at Louisville Saturday it was given out that this was the probable time of the convention. The prospect in Kentucky is very pleasing and it is certain a solid Roosevelt delegation will be sent to Chicago.

A number of prominent Republicans are mentioned for delegates to the National convention. The Louisville Herald says:

"It is said that nearly all Republicans in this city will favor the election of Col. Morris B. Belknap for delegate at large to the National convention. The precedent of the Republican party is to send gubernatorial candidates to the convention. In 1900, even after he had left Kentucky, former Gov. W. R. Taylor was sent as delegate at large from this state.

"Should Col. Belknap be sent to the convention as delegate at large, it is probable that former Gov. W. O. Bradley would contest for the election in the Seventh district, as it is unlikely that two delegates at large will be selected from any one district. Bradley and Yerkes are from the same district.

"Judge George Du Belle and A. L. Spies are being urged for district delegates from this (the Fifth) district. Both of these men have done valiant work for their party in this district, and will go into the district convention with strong backing.

"George W. Jolly, of Owensboro, was in the city yesterday, and announced his candidacy for district delegate from the Second district. Mr. Jolly stated that he favored the election of Yerkes and Bradley for delegates at large to the National Convention."

BRUTAL ATTACK

MADE ON AN ILLINOIS TEACHER BY UNKNOWN MAN.

There is considerable excitement over at Carbondale, Ill., according to trainmen in from that division of the Illinois Central, over the assault made on Miss Eva Kavanaugh, a school teacher, who was attacked by an unknown man and frightfully cut about the head and otherwise injured. He escaped and the mayor has offered a reward of $250 for his capture.

A man suspected of being the party who assaulted Miss Kavanaugh was arrested by Sheriff Thorpe at Ava. He is said to fill the detailed description given by the lady, but he has not been brought to this city for identification by Miss Kavanaugh as yet. Over $600 has been subscribed by the citizens as a reward for the capture of the guilty party. Miss Kavanaugh is rapidly recovering.

HANNA TO DECLINE.

WILL NOT BE ABLE TO ACCEPT THE INVITATION OF KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Senator Hanna says he will be unable to go to Frankfort to address that body. Early this winter the Senator decided that he would not leave Washington this season for the purpose of making any speeches, and has even declined to go to Cleveland to address the Tippecanoe Club of that city at a banquet to be given in honor of McKinley's birthday, the latter part of this month.

Mr. Hanna is a very busy man, and his Senatorial and political duties take up more than twice as much time as the average member of the Senate gives to such matters. Moreover, he at present is suffering with a mild attack of the grippe and is under the care of a physician.

THE MOUSE AND THE WEASEL.

Find Owner of the House.

A lean and hungry Mouse once pushed his way, not without some trouble, through a small hole in a corn hutch, and there fed for some time so busily, that when he would have returned by the same way he had entered he found himself too plump to get through the hole, push as hard as he might. A Weasel, who had great fun in watching the vain struggles of the fat little thing, called to him and said: "Listen to me, my plump friend. There is but one way to get out; and that is to wait till you have become as lean as when you first got in."

GEN. DAN COLLIER

Pension Agent of Kentucky Dies Suddenly.

Had Been Ill From Heart Trouble For Several Weeks.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 25.—Alone in a room in the Pope Sanitarium death came to Daniel R. Collier, United States pension agent for the state of Kentucky Saturday afternoon between 5:30 and 6 o'clock. Death was caused by angina pectoris, or rheumatism of the heart, and was not unexpected, as Colonel Collier himself had frequently said he would die in just that way.

For the past six weeks Colonel Collier had been a great sufferer from rheumatism. Colonel Collier was in the habit of stopping at the sanitarium every day about noon and receiving treatment. Saturday he visited the sanitarium at the usual time, and after his treatment said to Dr. Pope that he did not feel equal to walking to dinner. Dr. Pope told him to go to a room and lie down. He said he thought he would take a nap and not eat any dinner. He went to sleep about 2 o'clock and slept easily until 4:30 o'clock. At that time he rang for the nurse and said he felt a slight nausea. The nurse attended him and he said he would lie there for a few minutes and go home.

Colonel Collier had not taken off his clothes when he lay down on the bed, and just after the nurse entered the room he put on his coat. Lying down again after the nurse left the room, at about 5:30 o'clock, Colonel Collier died, for when the nurse returned to the room ten minutes later he had ceased to breathe.

Daniel Ray Collier was born in Garrard county, Kentucky, about 64 years ago. He was educated in the schools of that county, obtaining the rudiments which enabled him later to teach school in Garrard county for several years.

He continued his life on the farm until the outbreak of the Civil war, when he at once responded to the call to arms. He enlisted as a private soldier in company C, Third Kentucky Infantry, under Major E. Bramlette. For gallant conduct on the field, he was time and again promoted until he finally became a lieutenant colonel.

He had occupied many important offices, being adjutant general of the state during Governor Bradley's administration. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Attorney General Hays has decided that the Governor has no power to appoint a Police Judge in a sixth-class town.

DAILY THOUGHT.

A good deed is never lost; he who

who plants kindness gathers love;
pleasure bestowed upon a grateful
mind was never sterile, but generally gratitude begets reward.—Basil.

THE WEATHER.

Snow tonight and Tuesday.

Mr. Bryan has asked Judge Parker
to write a statement that he, Judge
Parker, voted for Bryan and Sewell,
and Judge Parker has declined. Mr.
Bryan seems to be more interested in who voted the Democratic ticket in the past than in who is going to vote
it next November.

Mr. W. J. Bryan continues to harass the Democrats. He now declares that "No man who voted for Palmer and Buckner will be nominated." In other words the Palmer and Buckner Democrats are at liberty to vote for the Populist Democrats like Mr.
Bryan, but the latter and his faction
will not support one of the former.
This is promoting harmony in a hurry.

The part Louisville policemen take in primaries and elections is at least indicated by the fact that damages have been awarded against nine of them, amounting to from $500 to $4,- 000, for assaults, intimidation and false arrests incident to the June primary. As long as police jobs are made a matter of politics, however,
the police will be least to blame for these sort of outrages.

It is claimed by some of the Louisville papers that State Labor Inspector Andrew B. Ludwig is about to lose his job because he refuses the assessment of $878 as his pro rata of the expenses of the recent Democratic campaign in Kentucky. The fact that Mr. Ludwig declines to either affirm or deny indicates that there may be something in the report. If it is untrue he owes it to the men who gave him the office to deny it, which he has thus far failed to do.

The fire chief of Chicago lays the responsibility of the Iroquois disaster to the theater managers, declaring that the building had not been completed at the time of the fire. He fails to explain, however, why the city authorities allowed it to open when the laws had not been complied with.
While the theater people may in one sense of the word be to blame, nevertheless if the city authorities had done
their duty before the fire as they did it afterward, the theater could not have opened. The fact that all theaters have since been closed shows that they should have and could have been closed before, and thus prevent the awful loss of life.

The agonizing last hours of the late Colonel Tom Campbell, whose work against alleged Goebel conspirators in securing perjured testimony and arousing prejudice was largely responsible for the days, and weeks and years of their suffering, imprisonment and mental anguish although there is not enough real evidence against them to condemn a yellow dog, may have been underrated, and it is not for us to say that it was. But if there are any God-fearing men among the persecutors of these men in Kentucky for political reasons, they should read about the horrible fate of their master worker, and take warning for fear it might have been a judgment sent down upon him for his evil deeds against innocent men.

The legislature is to do a little gerrymandering, it seems from reports. A Frankfort dispatch to one of the Louisville Democratic papers says:
"The Fifth appellate district went Democratic in the recent state election
by about 3,500 majority, but McKinley carried it twice and Yerkes once by from 3,000 to 4,000 majority. It is generally regarded as normally a Republican district, but it is almost certain that this legislature will gerry-mander the district by taking out Owsley, Clay, Laurel and Knox counties, all Republican, and adding Clark and Estill, which are Democratic or close, and which would make the district safely Democratic." This is doubtless what the Democrats are up to, but it is very unpretty to boast
about it before hand.

TRAIN DITCHED

Hit a Cow and the Flying Carcass Threw the Switch.

One Man Killed and Several Persons
Had Narrow Escapes in the Mixup.

PART OF THE TRAIN ARRIVES

The fast Memphis and Louisville flyer No. 2, which takes the number of 102 when it reaches Fulton, on its way to Paducah, where it is due at 11:40 a. m., was wrecked at Gates,
Tenn., 103 miles south of Paducah,
this morning between 8 and 9 o'clock
and one man was killed and several narrow escapes are reported.

The engine struck a cow which in flying through the air struck a switch
rod. The switch was rendered defective and threw the points of the switch
so that the train was ditched.

The engine, mail car and private car No. 8, occupied by Chief Engineer
H. U. Wallace, remained upright but the other cars in the train were turned over and ditched.

One unknown man was standing on the siding when the wreck occurred and was killed by being caught under the falling cars. This is the only death reported. The mail cars and engines came on through to Fulton where other coaches were added and arrived in Paducah only one hour late.
Mr. H. U. Wallace's car being the last one in the train, could not be brought around the wreck, and he did not arrive in Paducah today, as he intended to.

not known, but it looked to those who saw it as if half a dozen or more were on the two scabs. The latter will this afternoon swear out warrants.

AT THE CHURCHES

Much Interest Continues at the Baptist Church.

Rev. Bretz Makes a Fine Impression
at the German Evangelical Church.

OTHER SERVICES HELD

Evangelist M. F. Ham, of Bowling
Green, who is conducting a meeting
at the First Baptist church, preached to large crowds yesterday, in the morning and evening at the First Baptist church, and in the afternoon at the Baptist mission on the North Side.
There were nine additions to the church at the morning. At night
Rev. G. M. McNeiley, of Russellville, held an overflow meeting down stairs in the Sunday school room.

Dr. T. J. Newell preached a strong sermon on the "Comfort of Faith" at the Broadway Methodist church yesterday morning and there were two additions to the church at this service.
The pulpit at night was occupied by Mr. H. S. Bonsib of Indiana, a prohibition speaker who is in the city,
and who was heard by a large congregation.

Rev. D. Bretz, of Pomeroy, Ohio,
occupied the pulpit of the German Evangelical church yesterday at both service, preaching in German in the morning and English in the evening.
He made a pleasant impression and is a talented and earnest speaker.

Yesterday morning at the First Cumberland Presbyterian church, the pastor Rev. George O. Bachman preached the first of a series of sermons on "The Church." His theme was "Is Christ Divided?"

Only the communion service was held yesterday morning at the First Christian church owing to the absence of Rev. W. H. Pinkerton from the city.

Rev. W. E. Cave, D. D. of the First Presbyterian church being still in North Carolina there was no service at that church yesterday.

Next Sunday will be congregation
day at the Broadway Methodist church,
and the services will be of especial interest.

COMMITTEES MEET

TWO CALLED FOR THIS EVEN-ING—THE ORDINANCE
AND STREET.

There are to be two committee
meetings of importance this evening.
One is of the ordinance committee, at Mayor Yeiser's office. The members are Aldermen Singleton, Durrett and Smith, and Councilmen McCarty and Jackson. The object is a discussion of the proposed ordinance relative to automatic gates at the railroad crossings, and local railroad men will doubtless be heard on the subject.

Another committee, the street committee, composed of Aldermen Greif,
Davis and Durrett, and Councilmen Rehkopf and McCarty, will be held at City Engineer Washington's office for the purpose of deciding on what kind of curbing to use on the streets to be paved under the bond issue.

Mayor Yeiser states that the impression that he desired to get rid of the work of looking after the distribution of charity out of city funds is wrong,
as he likes nothing better than helping those who need it. It was left to the Charity Club because the club is best equipped to look after, it and can accomplish more.

HAND MASHED

SEACOAST MAN PAINFULLY
HURT THIS MORNING.

William Ligon, colored, an employee of the Seacoast Mineral company, was badly injured this morning shortly before noon.

He was working on the river bank
with a tramway which had been bal-
lasted by big stones to keep the river
from rising and washing the foundation from under it, when a large stone
dislodged from the bank above slid down on Ligon's left hand. The member was badly mashed. Dr. J. S.
Troutman dressed the injury and it is thought the member can be saved.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 25—With the matters which have come before the general assembly of 1904—the school book bill, the St. Louis fair measure, and that appropriating a million dollars for the new state capitol buildings—all of which were urged upon the assembly by the people and by the message of the governor on the opening day of the session, the assemblymen have yet before them 44 working days of the 60 days' session in which to dispose of the several hundred minor measures which have been presented for their consideration. When the session opened no one had an idea that the discussion of the three measures mentioned above would be so soon ended by their adoption. Two of them have gone to the governor, and the third, the capitol bill is being held up only for the purpose of securing a full senate membership to pass

it without a dissenting vote, which will be done on Thursday next.

Of the measures yet to be considered the most important are those disfranchising the negro, and for providing for an extension from five to six months the common school term. The question of referring to the people an amendment of the constitution providing an educational qualification has received favorable action in both branches, and will be finally passed upon this week.

The question of extending the common school term has also been practically settled. A number of senators and representatives have advocated an extension to seven months, but this cannot be done with the present revenues, and has been abandoned. A term of six months agreed upon. A twin bill, changing the apportionment
of the sheriff's revenues, is attached to the bill extending the term, and before another ten days have rolled around these bills will have gone to the governor's table to join those already there awaiting his stamp of approval.

The various bills providing state commissions to manage or look after this or that will come next in the matter of consideration, and with them
the bills for the relief of the several state departments here in a small way.

Long Illness.

Funeral Held This Afternoon—Mrs. E.
A. Watson's Demise Yesterday.

Mrs. Sallie Payne Scott died after a lingering illness Sunday morning
shortly before 1 o'clock at her home
on Jefferson street beyond Fountain avenue. Her illness had been critical for several days and while not unexpected, her death came as a sad blow
to family, relatives and friends.

Mrs. Scott was 58 years old, and had been a resident of Paducah for 18 years. She was a native of Marshall,
Ill., and came of a prominent family.
She resided for some time at Kuttawa with an aunt, but came here when she
and Mr. Scott were married over 17 years since.

She leaves a husband, Mr. Will Scott, the well known hardware merchant, and two daughters, Gertrude, aged 17, and Mary, aged 13. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Cad Chenoweth, of St. Louis, and Mrs.
Will Hendrick, of Marshall, and three brothers, Edward, Curt and William Payne, of Marshall. Her mother, her sister, Mrs. Chenoweth and her aunt, Mrs. Mary H. Wright, of Bloomington, Ill., were at her bedside when she died.

Mrs. Scott was possessed of many fine and lovable qualities that had endeared her to a host of friends here.
She was a devoted wife and mother and a noble Christian and her loss will be keenly felt in the circles of home,
church and friends.

The funeral was held this afternoon
at 2 o'clock at the family home on Jefferson street, conducted by the Rev.
W. H. Pinkerton of the First Christian church, who returned from Nashville, Tenn., at 1:15 this afternoon. The pall bearers were:

Messrs. George E. Phillips, Robert
Phillips, H. Hughes, Muscoe Burnett,
E. P. Noble, George C. Wallace, R.
E. Ashbrook and L. S. DuBois.

The interment will be at Oak Grove.

Mrs. E. A. Watson, aged 33, wife of a well known employe of the Bauer
pottery, died last night from a complication at her home at 1421 South Tenth street. The funeral took place
this afternoon. Burial at Oak Grove.
The deceased had resided in Paducah
about five years.

Clint Russell, age 6 years, son of
Mr. Alex Russell, of No. 816 South
Sixteenth street, died Saturday night at 6 o'clock of brain fever, and the remains were buried this morning at Oak Grove cemetery.

The remains of Flagman Frank
Crockett, of Jackson street, who died Saturday morning, were yesterday
shipped to Bowling Green, his birth place, for burial. The funeral will take place today.

WAR IS ON

REHKOPF TO FIGHT THE UNIONS FROM NOW ON.

It is announced this afternoon that the E. Rehkopf firm will at once take steps to prevent further interference with the men brought here to work in their factories. This afternoon warrants will be sworn out in Justice R. J. Barber's court against a number of the strikers for the alleged enticing away of men from work, and it is understood that an injunction
will be taken out in the federal court
under the Federal laws to prevent any future interference of any kind with the men who have come here or may come here to work. The firm is one of the wealthiest in the state, and according to reports will give the unions a finish fight this time.

QUIT COFFEE

SAID THE GREAT GERMAN SPECIALIST.

It disappoints some people to be told that coffee causes the disease. But it is best to look squarely at facts and set the face towards health for that's more fun than anything else anyhow. A Cincinnati man consulted a Berlin physician on nervous diseases and says:

"Four years ago I was an habitual coffee drinker having used it for 25 years and being naturally of a nervous temperament I became almost a nervous wreck, greatly suffering from insomnia, almost constantly constipated and weighing only 128 pounds.

"I consulted physicians and took medicine all the time but had no relief. About three years and a half ago I went abroad and while in Berlin heard frequently of a great physician, Prof. Mendel, an authority on nervous trouble, so I resolved to consult him.

"Prof. Mendel surprised me very much by asking at once if I was a coffee drinker and on my telling him I used it two or three times a day he said, 'It is poison.' After carefully examining me he told me there was nothing the matter with me whatever but what could be entirely cured in thirty days by letting coffee and other stimulants alone and dieting.

"I had a hard time following his advice, I did not know what to do until I came home and told my wife who got some Postum. We tried it but at first did not like it; then we went over the directions on the package together and found we had not boiled it long enough. That was the beginning of the end of my trouble for the Postum was delicious after that and I drank it regularly and it helped me from the start.

"In a very short time I began to feel much better and in the last three years I haven't been absent from business one hour on account of ill health for my health is fine now. I have a good appetite, sleep well and weigh 175 pounds." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Any nervous person who drinks coffee will feel better from 10 days use of Postum in place of coffee. Trial easily proves this. There's a reason.

Look in each package for a copy of the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

SET FOR THURSDAY

WARRANT TO BE ISSUED FOR DEAD GIRL'S MOTHER. ALSO.

The case against Sallie Holmes, colored, charged with murder, was called in the police court today and continued until Thursday. The police have been unable to learn anything more about the shooting of Mary Duke Johnson, the nine year old girl shot and killed on Eighth street Friday, but it is said enough has been ascertained to justify a warrant against the girl's mother, also, for murder.

Judge Sanders said this morning that a warrant would be issued against Rachel Johnson, the mother, for murder, and both cases will come up for trial Thursday.

It is said that the insurance feature of the case will be the strongest point for the prisoners, as they would probably have had the insurance paid up had there been any premeditated murder. The insurance is the only motive for the crime, if there was a crime, and as it was not paid up at the time of the shooting, it will be rather a weak argument.

The police are now looking for another motive for the murder, and it is said the child had been badly mistreated and beaten by several, and this may lead to further developments.

LOST $130

A SERIOUS MISFORTUNE BEFALLS MR. ADAM HAAS.

Mr. Adam Haas formerly employed in the Rehkopf shops here, lost his pocket book containing $130 in cash, a trunk check and several other small articles Saturday somewhere between Paducah and Princeton.

Mr. Haas left on the noon train Saturday for Cincinnati and his trunk was returned here as he could not secure it at Cincinnati, having no check. Mr. W. A. Flowers, the local C. C. baggage man, was notified of the loss and today at noon while Mr. Flowers was out of his office, a stranger began to ask questions about the trunk. He disappeared however and made no attempt to secure the trunk. It is thought that he found the pocket book, money and trunk check.

Officer Henry Singery and Guy Nance were notified and are on the lookout for the man, having secured a description from the baggage porters. Mr. Haas thinks he lost the money on the train as he missed it after he left Paducah and just as he reached Princeton.

HOBOS PINCHED

SEVERAL GATHERED IN BY THE POLICE YESTERDAY.

The police are taking in the tramps whenever they show themselves. Last night three white men and four negroes were arrested in different places.

The white men were on their way to various places to work, they claimed, and were in the city electric light plant when arrested. They were allowed to go.

Two of the negroes, Don Boyd and Hewlett George, were strangers, but came here to work, one of them on the Joe Fowler. They had pistols, knucks, and other weapons, and were fined $40 and costs and given twenty days in jail for carrying concealed weapons. Judge Sanders said he could have made it $100 and thirty days in jail just as well, so there was no occasion for the spectators to laugh.

William Smith and Dan Alexander, two other colored tramps, both of whom were arrested in the Illinois Central sand house, said they came to work, but admitted having been in jail. One said he was arrested with a circus at Columbia, Tenn., and the other said he was in jail only for "fighting" and "crap shooting." They were held for investigation.

COMING HOME

CLARENCE INGRAM, A PADUCAH SOLDIER, ARRESTED FOR SEDUCTION.

Captain Joe Woods, of the Paducah police force, is en route to Paducah with Clarence Ingram, a Paducah boy wanted here for alleged seduction, and will arrive with his charge this afternoon or tonight.

Ingram left here last summer with army recruits and was assigned to the Fort Snelling, Minn., barracks. At the last term of court a young lady named Effie Mahon of the North Side, had him indicted, alleging that he had taken advantage of her under promises of marriage. Judge Sanders issued the warrant, requisition papers were secured by Chief Colli's and Saturday Captain Woods left for Fort Snelling to bring back the young man.

The matter had been kept quiet until it was known to be possible to effect Ingram's arrest and this morning a telegram was received from the Paducah officer saying he had arrested the youth and was en route home with him.

Ingram is a well known young man here, being a son of a former policeman, now dead.

Mrs. J. G. Brooks, wife of the well known physician, and daughter, Miss Ethel Brooks, went to Chicago today at noon.

VARIABLE ROUTES TO FLORIDA.

In addition to the numerous facilities provided for the comfort and pleasure of Florida travelers, the Southern Railway and Queen & Crescent Route have this year added a new and unusually attractive feature in the form of a variable route tourist ticket, by means of which, at a slight additional expense, the going trip may be made via Chattanooga, Atlanta and Macon and the return trip via Savannah, Columbia, Asheville, Hot Springs and Knoxville—or vice versa—including stop off, if desired, at all of these and other points, so that a passenger may visit Lookout Mountain, the beautiful "Sapphire Country" the "Land of the Sky" and the principle commercial centers and tourist resorts en route.

The "Chicago and Florida Special" a superb train composed of through Pullman Drawing Room sleepers, composite car and dining car, leaves Cincinnati every evening except Sunday, via the Queen & Crescent Route. A handsome observation sleeper leaving Louisville at 7:25 p. m., is attached to the "Special" at Lexington and this train then runs through solid via Southern railway from Chattanooga to Jacksonville and St. Augustine, arriving at 9:30 p. m. and 10:35 p. m., respectively the next evening, making connection at Jacksonville for interior Florida points.

The "Florida Limited" leaves Cincinnati every morning the year around via the Queen & Crescent Route connecting at Lexington with the Southern railway trains from Louisville. This train also runs through solid to Jacksonville and St. Augustine via Southern Railway from Chattanooga carrying sleeping cars, observation and dining car, arriving at 9:45 a. m., and 11:15 a. m., respectively.

The Q. & C. "Special" leaving Cincinnati every evening carries Pullman sleeper through to Jacksonville via Southern railway from Harriman Jet. through Asheville, the "Land of the Sky" and Savannah. This train also connects at Lexington with train from Louisville.

There is of course corresponding fine service via each of these routes on the return trip. Either of the following booklets will be sent on receipt of two cent stamp "Land of the Sky," "Winter Homes, containing hotel list, "Hunting and Fishing in the South," containing game laws, Cuba folder, etc.

Complete information as to rates, schedules, etc., will be gladly furnished on application to C. H. Hungerford, D. P. A. Southern railway, 234 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky.

Popular Australian Churchman.

One of the most popular men in Australia is Monsignore O'Hea, now nearly 90 years old and long known all over the big south Pacific island as "the sporting prelate." Lucky land speculation many years ago made him one of the richest men in Victoria. He was a dashing horseman in his day, and never missed a Melbourne cup day, the great Australian racing festival. Indeed, rumor has it that on more than one occasion he ran horses for that coveted trophy—under assumed names. He attended so many Protestant and Episcopal gatherings that rigid Catholics occasionally looked askance at him, but he has always been immensely popular with the vast majority of those professing the same faith.

Not a Live American Boy.

"Wanted—A boy who never saw a baseball game; one who does not know the difference between third base and a foul ball. To such an office attachment a liberal salary will be paid.—Hudson Register." What for? A boy answering such plans and specifications as that would not be worth his salt. He wouldn't be worth the powder to blow him up. He would be too dead to bury. He would not have life enough to crawl off and die. No, no—what the world wants is live American boys, who will get to the ball game and the circus when they are boys and to the front of the procession when they get to be men.

Pioneer Woman Dentist.

Dr. Elvira Castner of Marienfelde, near Berlin, who was one of the first German women to come to this country to study a profession closed to her in Germany, has given up her profession of dentistry after many years of successful work, and is devoting herself to a school of horticulture for women founded by herself. There are now a number of women dentists in Germany.

Theatrical Notes.

The Howard-Dorset company, recognized as the leaders in repertoire, has enjoyed four years of uninterrupted popularity, and now begins its fifth season in brand new plays, with many taking novelties in the matter of musical specialties and scenic effects. It is promised that the company this season will far exceed any former company that Mr. Howard has ever had. Much interest has been manifested in the coming of this clever company. The opening play, "The Eagle's Nest" tonight will be staged with all the picturesqueness of that period of time, and a meritorious presentation will be looked for by this well balanced company. With the Howard-Dorset company an evening of splendid entertainment interpreted by the very best artists obtainable in repertoire was what may be expected, this favorite company being the attraction. Specialties of a highly entertaining order will be given between acts, also illustrated songs and moving pictures.

The New York Dramatic Mirror says something which should be read here as well as elsewhere: Signor Caruso refused in the Metropolitan opera house to sing over again his monologue at the end of Act I of Pagliacci, let Friday night, deeming it to be inartistic, and the audience roared and yelled until the management was forced to call the police, when Signor Caruso nodded to Arturo Vigna, the conductor of the orchestra, and sang, to save his insulters in the audience from broken heads from the clubs of the police. "There are schools for playwrights, journalists, actors—why not one for audiences? Most of them need a lot of educating and display an amount of ill breeding that is appalling. "One thing should be insisted upon by the managers: double prices for double entertainment. That would make considerate audiences out of the boorish quicker than anything else."

Nat M. Wills, who was here in "A Son of Rest" last month, proved himself a hero at the Grand theater, in Kansas City, Friday night by preventing a panic. A small blaze started the audience to its feet, but Mr. Wills quickly shouted that 600 people had been tramped to death or shut off from escape by a stampede in Chicago and the audience quickly subsided and the fire was out in a few seconds.

Prof. Wm. Deal, leader of the Kentucky orchestra, has inaugurated something new. He has a card posted during the playing of every number, giving the name of the selection.

Mr. John F. Bragg, of Louisville, who gets up amateur theatricals, is in the city and may arrange to get up something here.

THE STROLLERS

By FREDERIC S. ISHAM,

Author of "Under the Rose"

Copyright, 1902, by THE BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

Without definite purpose the patron,
who had listened with scant attention to the poet, began to move slowly toward the actress, and at that moment
the eyes of the soldier, turning to the saddling paddock, where the horses were being led out, fell upon the figure drawing near, recognizing in him the heir to the manor, Edward Mauville.
Construing in his approach a deliberate intention, a flash of quick anger over-spread Saint-Prosper's face, and he

"You are blocking my way, monsieur,"

glanced at the girl by his side. But her manner assured him she had not observed the land baron, for at that moment she was looking in the opposite direction, endeavoring to discover Barnes or the others of the company in the immense throng.

Murmuring some excuse to his unconscious companion and cutting short the wiry old lady's reminiscences of the first public trotting race in 1818, the soldier left the box and, moving with some difficulty through the crowd, met Mauville in the aisle near the stairway. The latter's face expressed surprise, not altogether of an agreeable nature, at the encounter, but he immediately regained his composure.

"Ah, M. Saint-Prosper," he observed easily, "I little thought to see you here."

"Nor I you!" said the other bluntly.

The patron gazed in seeming carelessness from the soldier to the young girl. Saint-Prosper's presence in New Orleans could be accounted for. He had followed her from the Shadeno valley across the continent. The drive begun at the country inn, he looking down from the dormer window to witness the start, had been a long one,
very different from his own brief flight, with its wretched end. These thoughts coursed rapidly through the land baron's brain; her appearance rekindled the ashes of the past; the fire
in his breast flamed from his eyes, but otherwise he made no display of feeling. He glanced out upon the many faces below them, bowing to one woman
and smiling at another.

"Oh, I couldn't stand a winter in the north," resumed the patron, turning once more to the soldier, "although the barn burners promised to make it warm for me!"

Offering no reply to this sally, Saint-Prosper's gaze continued to rest coldly and expectantly upon the other.

Goaded by that arbitrary regard, an implied barrier between him and the young girl, the land baron sought to press forward. His glittering eyes met the other's. The glances they exchanged were like the thrust and parry
of swords. Without wishing to address the actress, and thereby risk a public rebuff, it was nevertheless impossible for the hot blooded southerner to submit to peremptory restraint.

Who had made the soldier his taskmaster? He read Saint-Prosper's purpose and was not slow to retaliate.

"If I am not mistaken, yonder is our divinity of the lane," said the patron softly. "Permit me." And he strove to pass.

The soldier did not move.

"You are blocking my way, monsieur," continued the other sharply.

"Not if it lies the other way."

"This way or that way, how does it concern you?" retorted the land baron.

"If you seek further to annoy a lady whom you have already sufficiently wronged it is any man's concern."

"Especially if he has followed her across the country," sneered Mauville.

"Besides, since when have actresses become so chary of their favors?" In his anger the land baron threw out intimations he would have challenged
from other lips. "Has the stage then become a holy convent?"

"You stamped yourself a scoundrel
some time ago," said the soldier slowly, as though weighing each word, "and now show yourself a coward when you
malign a young girl without father,
brother!"

"Or lover," interrupted the land baron.

"Perhaps, however, you were only traveling to see the country."

"Have you anything further with me?" interjected Saint-Prosper curtly.

The patron's blood coursed, burning, through his veins. The other's contemptuous manner stung him more

fiercely than language.

"Yes," he said meaningly, his eyes challenging Saint-Prosper's. "Have you been at Spedella's fencing rooms?
Are you in practice?"

Saint-Prosper hesitated a moment,
and the land baron's face fell. Was it possible the other would refuse to meet him? But he would not let him off easily. There were ways to force,
and, suddenly the words of the marquis recurring to him, he surveyed the soldier disdainfully.

"Glad you must come of a family of cowards and traitors! But you shall fight or—the public becomes arbiter!" And he half raised his arm threateningly.

The soldier's tanned cheek was now
as pale as a moment before it had been flushed. His mouth set resolutely, as though fighting back some weakness.
With lowering brows and darkening
glance he regarded the land baron.

"I was thinking," he said at length,
with an effort, "that if I killed you people would want to know the reason."

The patron laughed. "How solicitous you are for her welfare and mine!
Do you then measure skill only by inches? If so, I confess you would stand a fair chance of dispatching me.
But your address? The St. Charles, I presume."

The soldier nodded curtly, and, having accomplished his purpose, Mauville
had turned to leave when loud voices
in a front box near the right aisle attracted general attention from those occupying that part of the grand stand.

The young officer who had accompanied Susan to the races was angrily
confronting a thickset man, the latest recruit to her corps of willing captives.
The lad had assumed the arduous task
of guarding the object of his fancy
from all comers simply because she had been kind. And why should she not have been? He was only a boy.

She was old enough to be well, an adviser. When, after a brief but pointed altercation, he flung himself away
with a last reproachful look in the direction of his enslaver, Susan looked hurt. That was her reward for being nice to a child!

"A fractious young cub!" said the
thickset man complacently.

"Well, I like cubs better than bears!"
retorted Susan pointedly.

Not long, however, could the interest of the spectators be diverted from the amusement of the day, and soon all eyes were drawn once more to the track, where the horses' hoofs resounded with exciting patter as they struggled toward the wire, urged by the stimulating voices of the jockeys.

"How do you enjoy it, my dear?"
asked Barnes, suddenly reappearing at Constance's box. "A grand heat, that,
though I did bet on the wrong horse!
But don't wait for us, Saint-Prosper.
Mrs. Adams and I will take our time getting through the crowd. I will see you at the hotel, my dear," he added
as the soldier and Constance moved away with the desultory fag end of the procession. On either side of the road waved the mournful cypress, draped
by the hoary tillandsia, and from the sombre depths of foliage came the chirp of the tree crickets and the note of the swamp owl. Faint music, in measured rhythm, a foil to disconnected
wood sound, was wafted from a distant plantation.

"Wait," said Constance.

He drew in the horses, and silently
they listened. Or was he listening?
His glance seemed bent so moodily,
almost, on space she concluded he was
not. She stole a sidelong look at him.

"A penny for your thoughts," she said gaily.

He started. "I was thinking how soon I might leave New Orleans."

"Leave New Orleans!" she repeated in surprise. "But I thought you intended staying here. Why have you changed your mind?"

Did he detect a subtle accent of regret in her voice? A deep flush mounted to his brow. He bent over her suddenly, eagerly.

"Would it matter—if I went?"
She drew back at the abruptness of his words.

"How unfair to answer one question
with another!" she said lightly.

A pause fell between them. Perhaps she, too, felt the sudden repulse of her own answer and the ensuing constraint. Perhaps some compunction moved her to add in a voice not entirely steady:

"And so you think—of going back to France?"

"To France?" he repeated quickly.
"No," and stopped.

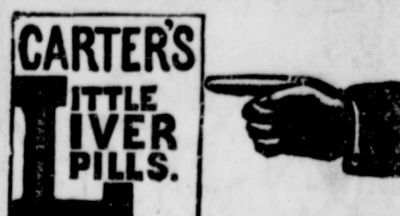

Looking up, a half questioning light
in her eyes took flight to his until suddenly arrested by the hard, set expression of his features. Abruptly chilled by she knew not what, her lashes fell. The horses champed their bits and tugged at the reins, impatient
of the prolonged pause.

"Let us go!" she said in a low, constrained voice.

At her words he turned, the harshness dropping from his face like a discarded mask, the lines of determination wavering.

"Let us go!" she said again without looking up.

So many things to do in California

There are so many things to do in California that visitors often waste a great deal of time trying to decide which to do first.

But there is one way to see the state that meets with the unqualified approval of every visitor, and that is by trolley-ho coach.

Practically every town in Southern California which caters to tourists has one or more trolley-ho coaches which leave the principal hotels every morning for a twenty-mile spin through the orange groves.

If you are going to California this winter will you not give me an opportunity of telling you why your ticket should read via the Rock Island System.

WAS SENT TO JAIL

William Lightfoot Held to Await a Requisition Today.

The Court Says That There Is Strong Evidence in His Favor. However.

A VERY REMARKABLE CASE

An unusual case was concluded this morning before Judge Sanders in the police court when William Lightfoot, an I. C. brakeman, was ordered to jail to await a requisition from the Tennessee authorities on a charge of murdering Roy Sloan, white, a flagman killed near Woodstock, Tenn., a week ago yesterday.

Lightfoot was held because his guilt or innocence was not questioned at this trial, but simply whether or not the court was justified in turning him over to the Tennessee authorities as a fugitive from justice.

There are few cases which leave so much room for doubt. While Lightfoot claimed to be in Paducah when the crime was committed, several railroad men swore they saw him on the scene, and at other places at the time he swore he was in Paducah. On the other hand a number of people who knew him swore positively that he was here last Saturday and Sunday.

Judge Sanders said in commenting on the case that there was strong evidence in Lightfoot's favor. In fact, he said, he didn't believe a jury could help giving him the benefit of the doubt had the same been before a jury.

Judge Sanders also said that he would take the trouble to write to the authorities in Tennessee and tell them that there is great doubt of Lightfoot's guilt, and strong evidence in his behalf. Lightfoot's main trouble will be in escaping lynching, or in getting his witnesses to Tennessee, if he is ever given a trial. There is no way to compel the witnesses to go, and the prisoner may not be able to get them there.

PAINFUL BURNS

MATCH HEAD FLEW OFF AND LIGHTED CURTAINS—MR. BUDDIE BURNS HAND.

Mr. Frank Budde, of Twelfth and Norton streets, was badly burned last night late at his home, and is unable to be at work this morning as a result. About 11 o'clock last night Mr. Budde went to strike a match and the head flew off and alighted in the folds of a lace curtain. Immediately the curtain blazed up and was a mass of flames. Mr. Budde grabbed the frail curtain down and in tearing it away from the window badly burned his left hand.
